Beyond that, a service fee of $50.00 will be incurred per edit.

Better-quality photographs make it easier to translate into amazing portrait pieces. Several reference materials are recommended. Well-lit, high-resolution photos where a lot of detail in the eyes and face can be seen when zooming in is required. (If you can make out the individual hairs of the dog, that is high enough resolution to work from). Taking the photographs at eye level will avoid distortion. Suitable reference images are required for the artwork to be made.

For more than one subject in a portrait, an individual quote will be made.
